N. Y. U. PLAYS TIE GAME WITH MEN FROM HAVERFORD

Pennsylvanians Block Kick That Would Have Won for Violet

A 7 to 7 tie was all that New York University football could draw in its seld with the Haverford College team. The visitors from Pennsylvania made god use of the strong wind which was blewing across the gridiron and played punting game. The Violet aggrega tion retalisted by returning the punts. Haverford won the toss and decided s kick, taking advantage of the wind. Instead of booting the pigskin far into N. Y. U. territory, the visitors resorted to a short kick, which caught the Violet men off their guard, and as a result Haverford recovered the ball. This made it first down on New York's 40-

On an end play Mackenzie threw the runner for a 10-yard loss. After two short line bucks Haverford tried a drop kick, which went wide, giving the Violet the ball on its 20-yard line. New York kicked into Haverford's territory, where a punting duel followed between Cann, of N. Y. U., and Sangree, of the Cann, of N. Y. U., and Sangree, of the visitors.

Near the end of the quarter Ramsey carried the ball over from the 25-yard line, netting Haverford the first touchdown of the game. He then kicked the gal. The quarter ended soon after with the ball in the Violet's possession near the visitors' goal line.

After one successful plunge New York lost the ball on downs. Haverford kicked to Cann, who returned the pigkin to the 20-yard line. After attempting two forwards the Violet resorted to an end run. Weinheimer fumbled. Mackenzie grabbing the ball and circling the end for a tally, Cann netting the extra point by lifting the ball over the bar and tieing the score.

Haverford kicked off, but this time failed to work the short kick, the ball going out of bounds. From then on the ball exchanged hands several times, and the whistle biew when the ball was in the Violet's territory.

Rutger's team that played the first intercollegiate game in this country, against Yale, in 1870, stood between Washington and Lee and victory today. The score was 13—13.

The crippled Rutgers team was outclassed in the first half by its heavier opponents. After Rutgers had got off to a fast start and gone to within twenty-five yards of the goal, a long penalty stopped them, and the Southerners sprung a big surprise by rushing for a touchdown.

Then Hazel's toe and the multiple kick got busy. With the ball on the 40-yard line, Hazel dropped back and sent it over the bar. The Rutgers defence went to pieces then, and Washing'on and Lee resorted to forward passing and scored again.

The visitors gained at will, and only penalties and fumbles prevented their score heing much larger. Trinity was completely outclassed. The present team is not to be compared to the elevens of recent past years.

Quarterback Sermon, of Springfield, played a splendid game, making three of the four touchdowns. He gained his distance whenever required, and on the defensive was a sure tackler and fatal on breaking up attempted forward passes.

WESLEYAN TIES BOWDOIN AFTER EXCITING BATTLE

Eleven by His Long End Runs

Middletown, Conn., Oct. 14.—Wesley-an's light eleven battled the heavy Bowdoin team to a tie acore of 19 to 19, on Andrus Field to-day. The home team opened with a rush which took them to the 30-yard line, where Har-man failed on a drop kick. Bowdoin was unable to make a first down in this period.

Deetjen's long end runs, aided by Harman, Wilbur and Webb, accounted for a Wesleyan tally, and soon afterward Deetjen carried the pigskin over for another touchdown on a pretty 24-yard end run. This tied the score.

MIDDLEBURY DEFEATS STEVENS ON GRIDIRON

The Stevens football team lost its first home game of the season yesterday to the speedy Middlebury eleven. The score was 13 to 7. Stevens started with a rush, but did all her play-ing in the first quarter, while the Vermonters did all theirs in the second half.

Bloss did some great running for Stevens, but he was outshone by Bower and Bresnahan, of the visitors. The two latter repeatedly circled the Stevens ends for long gains. Bower also proved a tower of strength at line plunges. A little open work was attempted, but the breeze did not lend itself strongly to this style of play.
